NOTE

The provided recommendations for standard cleaning products are based on general usage.

Individual results may vary depending on specific conditions and personal preferences.

For optimal performance, Breville recommends using its own certified cleaning products.

The steam wand cleaning process removes any milk residue, including externally coagulated milk proteins, that may be pulled up. Despite thorough purging, the wand may still accumulate residue. The cleaning frequency may vary depending on machine usage. It is generally recommended to clean the steam wand every 2-4 weeks.
